

The Apple Tree in the Backyard Garden

The backyard of Mr. Smith's house once had an apple tree that was quite large. Several apples were ripening on

Mr. Smith's tree, which were sweet and delicious. These apples of Mr. Smith had a sweet and juicy taste and were red in color. Mr. Smith's trees continued to bear apples all year long. Once Mr. Smith was finished picking them, he ate them and gave some to his family as well. Some of the fruits were also given to his neighbors by Mr. Smith.

1. What color are the apples?
2. Why did Mr. Smith pick the apples?
3. What did Mr. Smith give to his family?
4. Does Mr. Smith eat the apples?
5. Did the apple tree have any apples left?
6. When does the apple tree bear apples again?