The Lost Kite

One sunny afternoon, Mia and her little brother Liam were flying a kite in the park. The kite was bright red with a long, blue tail. It flew higher and higher as the wind blew stronger.

Suddenly, the wind became very strong, and Mia lost hold of the kite string! "Oh no!" cried Liam, as they watched the kite fly far away. Mia and Liam ran across the park to look for it. They checked behind trees, under benches, and near the pond.

Finally, they saw the kite stuck in the branches of a tall tree. "There it is!" shouted Liam. A kind man who was walking his dog stopped to help. He used a long stick to bring the kite down safely.

Mia and Liam thanked the man and happily went back to flying the kite, this time holding onto the string tightly!
